NATHANITE

Drury High School

North Adams
Massachusetts

CONTENTS

Our administrators, faculty and staff members have guided us along the paths of righteousness to enable us to reach our goals in life. For their unselfish sacrifice we shall be forever grateful.

Close friends and casual acquaintances bring back innumerable pleasant memories which will be cherished throughout the future. We trust that all present friendships will be continued hereafter.

Accomplishments of a personal, school or community nature resulted from these meetings. From 8:13 to 9:00 A.M. and after school hours, many busy workers have spent much time on useful or educational enterprises.

Drury has always been noted for fine teams. Our generation has attempted to carry on this tradition, while at the same time enjoying intramural and interscholastic sports as an essential part of our education.

FOREWORD

Books are keys to Wisdom's treasures;
Books are keys to lands of pleasures;
Books are paths that upward lead;
Books are friends; come let us read.
Books are means to joyous days;
Books are friends; come let us gaze.

Welcome to our 1962 Nathanite. With the idea of presenting the past year's occurrences in a memorable manner we have worked that our book might be perfect even to the smallest detail. Before it was finished, we realized that all our dreams had not come true. However, as our founder and namesake, Nathan Drury, clung to his vision of a better future, so we have fostered our hopes of perfection, which have culminated in this Nathanite of 1962.

Silhouettes were chosen for our division pages to symbolize those whom we know and shall always remember as the years go by — even if particular names and faces do grow obscure. Each of these figures is looking heavenward to signify our never-ending pursuit of the epitome of success, the acme of happiness and the joys of paradise.

The creation of any book is an adventure — an adventure into which one enters with all possible zest and zeal. So it was that the Nathanite Staff set out to create a new yearbook, one which might reflect the ardent spirit of the Drury High School Class of 1962, and radiate some of its ideals in the pages of a book. May each page recall some of this spirit and some of these ideals to your memory.

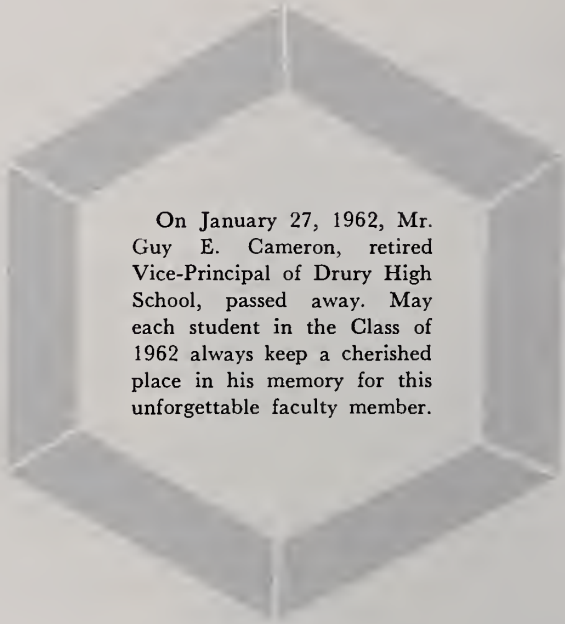

After four enjoyable years together we have come to the sad parting of ways. Our senior prom, class night and all graduation ceremonies have brought occasions of rejoicing with melancholy overtones. May we be together many times in the years ahead to relive all that is pictured within this volume.

We are most thankful to those whose loyal support has made this book possible. All are urged to patronize the business establishments which have their services advertised herein. Some have memories of part-time employment in them, while all recall the courtesy with which we have been received.

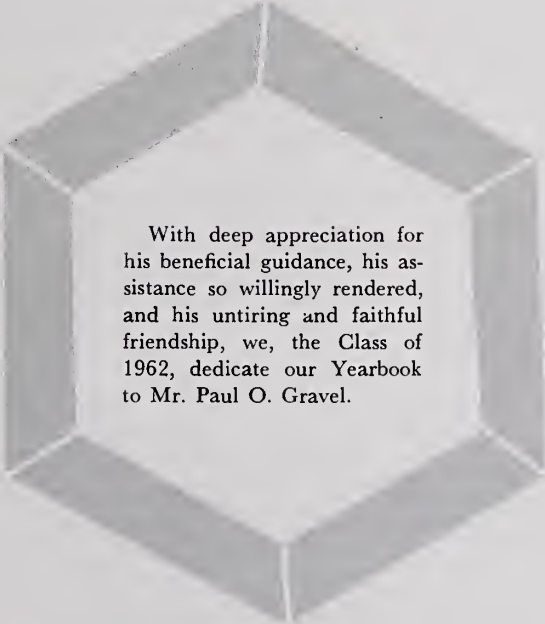

IN MEMORIAM

On January 27, 1962, Mr. Guy E. Cameron, retired Vice-Principal of Drury High School, passed away. May each student in the Class of 1962 always keep a cherished place in his memory for this unforgettable faculty member.

DEDICATION

A large, empty three-dimensional hexagonal frame, identical in style to the one above the title, positioned below the dedication text.

With deep appreciation for his beneficial guidance, his assistance so willingly rendered, and his untiring and faithful friendship, we, the Class of 1962, dedicate our Yearbook to Mr. Paul O. Gravel.

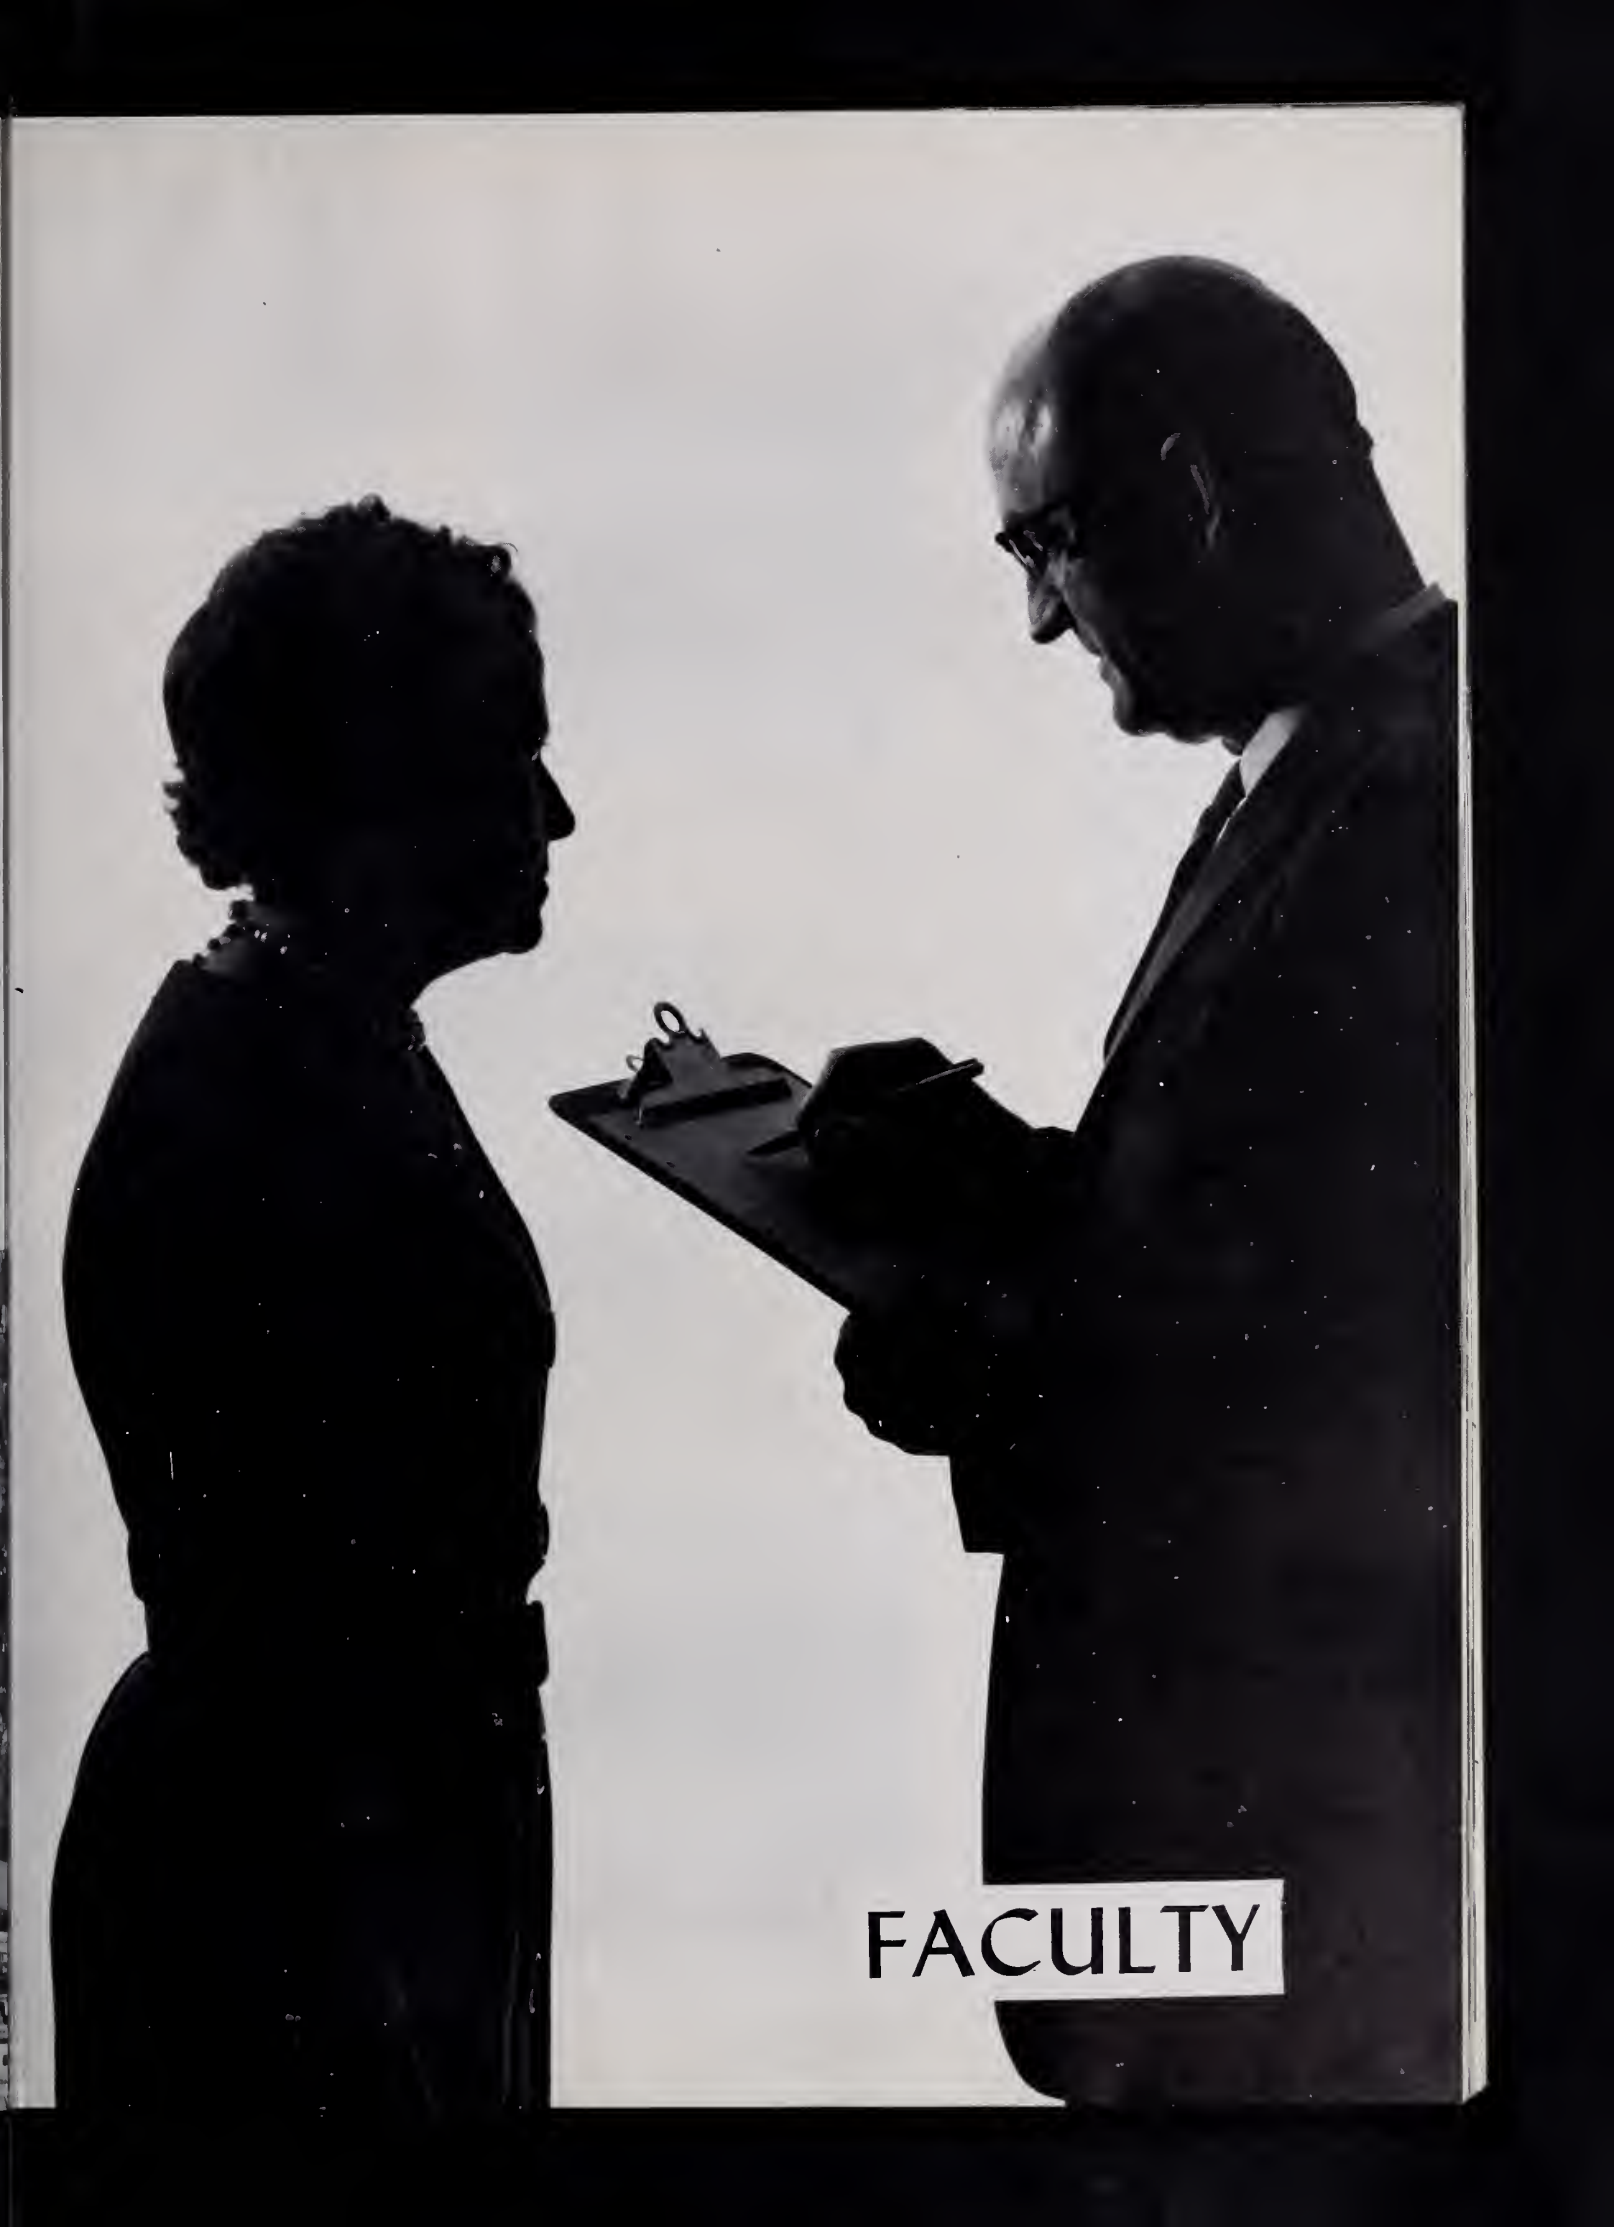

FIRST ROW: Mr. Cullen, Mayor Florini, Mr. Petri, Mr. Beall. SECOND ROW: Superintendent Taylor, Mr. Bryson. Missing: Mrs. Bacon, Mr. Nassif.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Our School Committee is not seen by our students in everyday school life, but plays a very important part in the school's function. Balancing the budget while wrestling with the necessity of securing new equipment for our school, alleviating the problem of overcrowded rooms, securing new teachers, planning new building and expansion programs . . . and the list goes on as the duties of our School Committee members increase from year to year. Through long and tedious meetings, this group tries to help our community — the city of North Adams.

FRESHMAN CLASS

CLASS ODE (Tune of Forever and Ever)

Forever and ever
Our hearts will remain
Loyal to Drury
For every gain.
Four years have slipped by us
Within these dear halls
The time is here before us — now the future calls.

(Chorus)

Our hearts will stay loyal forever
Tho all our paths lead afar
And now as we go we must say unto thee
Dear Drury farewell, farewell to thee.

THE NATHANITE STAFF

Shirley Estes, Nancy Labombard, Sandra Clough, Darlene Wilson, Mary-Jane Daniels. Missing: Keith Chalmers, Bus. Mgr., Betsy Clermont, Bus. Mgr., David Messier, Photographer, Carol Cermenaro, Photographer, Sandy Pugliese, Brenda Murdock, Robert Brownsword, Janet Buzzell.

The aim of the Yearbook is to give the students of Drury a pictorial history of the past year's events and happenings. Especially intended to serve as a link between the graduating senior and Drury, much hard work and effort goes into its production. We therefore wish to thank all who helped to make our Yearbook a success.

ACADEME STAFF

The Academe is the literary voice of Drury — a voice in which we can justly take pride. Published three times a year, it has been recognized by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for its outstanding quality in their annual competition. We feel confident the Academe will continue to uphold the finest literary tradition.

FIRST ROW: John Weld, Contributing Ed., Robert McGovern, Bus. Mgr., David Cohen, Editor, Bernard Lavenda, Assistant Ed., Gerald Hamilton, Contributing Ed. SECOND

ROW: Judy Benedetti, Contributing Ed., Paula Levine, Carol Zagarinsky, Bus. Dept., Karen Gayda, Christopher Swenson, Barry Less, Bus. Dept.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Murphy. THIRD ROW: Francis Horahan, George Lerrigo, John Horahan, Daniel Scully, Jay Shapiro, Bruce Batease, John Del Negro, Gary Brierley.

The Student Council is made up of members of each class. Their goal is to improve our school through ideas and suggestions contributed by the student body. They promote school spirit and work hard for their classmates. We thank them for the fine job they have done this past year.

ART CLUB

The ability to develop artistic talent is the opportunity given to the students of this club under the guidance of their capable advisor, Miss Murray. The members learn the fundamentals of art and then how to expand their skills. The opportunity engendered by the club may lead to an exciting career in art.

FIRST ROW: Edward Delisle, Treas., Sharon Cohen, Sec., Annette Iacuesa, Vice-Pres., Mary Jane Kassner, Pres. SECOND ROW: Carol Abbot, Patsy Jillson, Lynn Dion, Jacqueline Segala, Sharon Burdick, Suzanne Matte, Karen

SCIENCE CLUB

FIRST ROW: John Moresi, Ronald Ferris, Alan MacDonald, Robert Manion, Vincent Lopera, David Lemoine, Judith Poplaski. SECOND ROW: Mr. Del Negro, Paul

Catelotti, John Crofts, John Segala, Lawrence Mattison, Robert Beebe, James Bryson, Edward Lescarbeau, Leonard Gigliotti, Mrs. Allen.

To experiment with the practical application of science is the opportunity given to the students of this club. By developing projects throughout the school year much valuable knowledge is gained by the individuals whose curiosity is stimulated while working toward their goals.

SPEECH CLUB

Under the direction of Mrs. Bell, the Speech Club meets every Tuesday morning. During the club period members give speeches that they have written, act out parts in stories and plays, and read poems aloud.

FIRST ROW: Kathleen McCarthy, Gloria Osterhout, Gail Leonesio, Linda LeBlond, Carol Lazzeri. SECOND ROW:

Gail Hurley, Margaret Dickinson, Mrs. Bell, Cheryl Flynn, Wendy Sanders.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

FIRST ROW: Carole Giorgenti, Lib., Elizabeth Gorczakoski, Ex. Board, Justyna Steuer, Pres., Sandra Clough, Vice-Pres., Lois Maxymillian, Sec., Jean Graziola, Treas. SECOND ROW: Paul Partenope, John Moresi, Linda Libardi, Judy Darling, Jane Marsh, Jean Marchio, Leslie Sullivan, Patricia Cirone, Paula Levine, Kathy Toohey, Linda Leblond, Sandra Lavanway. THIRD ROW: Keith Chalmers, Carolyn Sanford, Marsha Lenhoff, Wendy Sanders, Leslie Rudnick, Hope Pratt, Marlin Murdock. Missing: David Tadiello, Ex. Board, Gail Raina, Wayne Montagna, Daniel Ralston, Susan Shields, Lynn Slattery, Myra Kelman, Marcia Lev.

The students who are interested in the possibility of teaching as a career belong to this club. The club itself helps them to understand and perhaps strengthen their wish to teach. We hope this group will continue their good work in aiding the future teachers of America.

KEY CLUB

Drury is very proud to have a Key Club, sponsored by our local Kiwanis. Its members participate in various money raising activities and devote their time and talent to many worthwhile projects within our community.

FIRST ROW: John Weld, Vice-Pres., Carl Hansen, Pres., Barry Less, Sec., David Cohen, Treas. SECOND ROW:

Richard Gigliotti, Christopher Swenson, Bernard Lavenda.

VARSITY CLUB

The boys who have received a letter for participation in one of Drury's major sports comprise the membership of this club. This year they have sold tags and sponsored dances for the student body, as well as given Drury a feared reputation in sports. Much credit is due to the club for attempting to keep school spirit alive.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club seeks to develop the individual's mind by playing one of the oldest and most difficult games in the world. The students meet every Thursday morning and, under the capable guidance of Mr. Del Negro, learn the power of mental discipline while engaging in an interesting duel of wits.

John Roach, Robert Beebe, Paul Catelotti, James Bryson, John Crofts, Alfred Skorupski, Keith Chalmers, Theodore Stasiowski, Dean Swift, Robert Rumbolt, Mr. Del Negro.

The Pro Merito consists of the members of the Senior Class who have maintained an average of 85 or better throughout the first three and a half years.

The members of this honorary society have worked long and hard to prove their scholastic ability and we wish to congratulate them for this honor.

NU SIGMA

Members of the Junior Class who have maintained a percentage of 85 or better during the first two years and who have attained high academic qualities are chosen for this honor society. The purpose is to give recognition to those who have made the most of their abilities. Congratulations to these fine students for their hard work and patience.

FIRST ROW: Ann Clark, Treas., Carolyn Sanford, Sec., Sandra Clough, Vice-Pres., Bruce Boisvert, Pres. SECOND ROW: Advisors: Mr. Trudeau, Miss Loehr; Mary-Jane Daniels, Ellen Law, Lynn Dion, Frances Harrington, Marsha Lenhoff, Eleanor Hinman, Darlene Wilson. THIRD

CLASS HISTORY

At this time we are presenting a summary of the activities and accomplishments of the Class of 1962 beginning with a modified play program.

TITLE: Class History

CHARACTERS: Members of the Drury High School Class of 1962 headed by Edward Noel, President; Daniel Ralston, Boys' Vice-President; Judith Benedetti, Girls' Vice-President; Jean Graziola, Secretary; Betsy Clermont, Treasurer.

DIRECTORS: Mrs. Marion Sweeney and Mr. Irving P. Toupence, our Class Advisors

SETTING: Classrooms of Drury High School

TIME: September 1958 — June 1962

AUTHORS: David Cohen and Justyna Steuer

NARRATORS: David Messier and Justyna Steuer

In September 1958, two hundred thirty-two nervous freshmen entered the halls of Drury High School, their home away from home for what were to turn out to be four swiftly passing years of labor and laughter together.

We soon found ourselves established with some prestige even among the upper classmen by teaming up with our sister class, the Juniors, to win the annual Field Day — an accomplishment which we later achieved again as Juniors and as Seniors.

As the year proceeded, we acquired a say in the affairs of "Drury on the hill" by electing our three student council representatives. Members of the class began to put a foot into everything with some becoming junior varsity cheerleaders, baton twirlers, band members, or sports' participants.

Twenty-two of us made the honor roll for the first marking period in high school that fall, while in the spring we put on the traditional Patriots' Day assembly, our first real class venture presented before the entire student body.

Final exams caused apprehensions, but once over, we longingly anticipated our sophomore year.

Now with the freshmen under us, our own class officers, and four Student Council Representatives, we silly sophomores had the play "The Night the Ghost Got In," for the Sophomore Frolic which had as its theme "The Haunted House."

The scholastic year proved trying for many but a new award was in store for those successfully completing their studies. In June, ten of us were presented certificates to be followed by scholastic award honor jackets for having attained a 90% average that year. We had also shown athletic prowess as sophomores beginning with a 13-8 football victory over arch rival Adams on November 11, 1959.

Behind us lay memories of freshman English, Latin, general science, and world history as well as sophomore biology. Ahead of us lay only the second half of our high schools careers — as upper classmen, now well acquainted with the ins and outs of undergraduate days.

In 1961, as Juniors, this class undertook the production of a theatrical presentation, "Alice-Sit-By-The-Fire," and for the first time had a real opportunity to demonstrate their ability to work as a group. The actors performed the roles of this subtle comedy well, and both they and the non-acting participants — such as those involved in make-up, stage managing, etc. — right down to the ushers helped to make the play a success acknowledged by both the public and the critics. A large share of the credit for the success of this production and also of the Senior Class Play, however, must be given to the members of the faculty who contributed their time, effort, and ability to the directing of these plays.

The Junior Prom, an annual affair produced by the Junior Class for the benefit of the Seniors, in 1961 achieved perhaps the acme of elaborateness of any like affair in the history of Drury High School. Employing a Parisien theme, the decor centered around a replica of the Eiffel Tower, and the interior accessories were arranged in true Parisien café motif. The entire project represented a concerted effort on the part of this class to make last year's Prom the best ever attempted.

The Senior Play, "Meet Me In St. Louis," was a much less subtle variety of comedy than attempted in "Alice-Sit-By-The-Fire," and its excellent production received both popular and critical acclaim. Again this class proved their spirit by their tireless efforts in the acting and non-acting assignments. The play concerns the amusing predicaments that befell a middle-class family residing in St. Louis during the early part of the century, and credit must be given the actors for their excellent and entertaining portrayals. But credit must again be given, however, to the faculty directors and the many behind-the-scenes people who contributed so greatly to the successful production of this play.

The Exchange program was instituted in Drury High School in an effort to broaden the student through acquaintance with other people of his own age in different environments, and to familiarize him with the social customs, natural resources, and industrial development in other parts of the country. The twenty-four students chosen from this class to represent Drury High School and North Adams in their exchange with students from Wyandotte, Michigan, performed their ambassadorial assignments well, impressing everyone, both here and in Wyandotte, with their vigor and enthusiasm in making the Exchange a success. It is hoped that future Exchange groups will accomplish as much in promoting good relations between communities.

Throughout their Junior and Senior years, the Class of '62 maintained a strong interest in academics, and the excellence of this group can be attributed not only to their ability to learn, but to their eager desire to better themselves intellectually. No fact can more clearly attest to the idealistic goals raised by this class and the accomplishment of these goals than the large number of students who, in 1961, earned the right to be classified as members of Nu Sigma Epsilon, the Junior honor society, and who, in the following year, received membership in the Pro Merito honor society. Indeed, this high ratio of honor students reflects most favorably upon this graduating class — a class which has followed and upheld Drury High School's honored tradition of academic excellence and educational development.

A Greek philosopher once said that physical and mental conditioning go hand in hand. The athletes of this class have demonstrated this maxim very well indeed; not only have they exhibited physical prowess on the playing field, but they have been for the most part good students as well. Members of this class have contributed greatly to Drury's reputation of perseverance and good sportsmanship in competitive athletics. Several of this year's Seniors were awarded high-ranking honors in both athletics and academics — a modern example of the practicability of an ancient philosophy.

The final class-sponsored activities of this year reveal, I believe, the true mettle of this group. Due to financial difficulty, the Senior Class, during the last part of May, organized a car wash, in which each individual could contribute his own time and effort to personally help his class. The results were gratifying; they showed the spirit, co-operation, and willingness to work for which this class has been noted since entering Drury. Following the car wash, a candy sale was instituted to further aid our financially distressed class. The same quality of spirit and effort previously demonstrated was again apparent and distinguished a united and successful class project.

CLASS PROPHECY

It is a balmy day in June. The place is New York City where the World's Fair of 1977 is being held.

Busily working at his desk, John Weld, the dashing reporter of the New York Times, sets out to report on the World's Fair. Before leaving the office, he assigns duties to his secretaries, Mary Sherman, Dianne Blair, Carolyn Jones, Lois Maxymillian, Rachel Morin, and Marcia Pontier.

His first stop is at the barber shop around the corner where he stops to chat with Bill Hein, the proprietor, and his assistant Ray Luczynski.

Passing by King's Beauty Salon, he speedily waves to Pamela and Sandy King, the co-owners of the establishment. He also sees Sandy Nash, and Ellen Costello having their hair done for their double wedding ceremony on the following day.

Suddenly the tooting of a horn arouses his attention, and turning his head, he sees New York's famous lawyers Dick Plumb, John Jewett, and Gary Bombardier passing by in their limousine driven by their chauffeur David Miner.

He decides to stop at the local bar and grille run by Tom Armbruster. He spots some of his old buddies, Bill Cullen, Ronnie Ferris, and Mike Major now running one of the exclusive clubs in Las Vegas. The room now becomes quiet for the championship fight of the year between Bob Beebe and George Emmons is about to appear on T.V. However, Jack cannot remain to see the conclusion of the fight for he has a busy schedule ahead of him. He says good-bye to Harold Jones, the bartender, and leaves. He hails a taxi and to his amazement, Ted Stasiowski is the driver. His first stop is the United Nations building where he sees several tours being led by Carol Briggs, Anne La Cross, Karen Gilmore, Marsha Clarke, and Cheryl Marazzi as guides. His attention is then drawn by a group of interpreters, Kathy O'Brien, Justyna Steuer, Keith Chalmers, and Judy Darling, busily interpreting the foreign press conference in which Barry Less, U.S. Ambassador to Israel, and his good comrade David Cohen, U.S. Ambassador to the Soviet Union, are participating. Larry Belleau, Roger Burdick, Timmy Haun, and Bill Dion, are cleaning an adjoining room.

Leaving the U.N. building, he stops at a newsstand, and buys a copy of the morning paper from Carlton Hewitt. Listed on the front page, he sees the names of Wayne Brierley, Buddy Brownsword, John Paserbiak, Harry Urban, John Netherwood, Chris Swenson, and Norm St. Pierre, all who have signed up for the Peace Corps. Turning to the Society Page, he reads where the famous designer Patsy Washburn is showing her new summer creations. Judy Brooks, Cheryl Murphy, Sandy Smith, Sandy Pugliese, Jean Brigham, Judy Mazza, and Judy Jayne are the models. On the Sports Page, he sees a picture of the Boston Red Sox and recognizes Dick Sheldon, the pitcher, Eddie Noel, the outfielder, John Robinson, Tom Richards, and Jimmy Bryson. The front page reads — 500 TEACHERS STRIKE IN NEW YORK CITY. The opinions of various teachers for and against the strike are presented. On the list Jack noticed the names of his old classmates, Nancy Lombard, Carole Giorgenti, Madeleine Jones, Carol Douglas, Carol Abbott, Karen Moreau, Angela Lora, Sandy Lavanway, Jean Le Stage, Elizabeth Chambers, Dave Tadiollo, Paul Partenope, Francis Morandi, Kenny Morris, Carl Hansen, Merlene Vickery, and Linda Wheeler. He also reads where Betsy Clermont is making her debut at Radio City Music Hall.

Jack then decides to stop at the hospital to see his wife who has just had her twelfth child. As he goes down the hall, he passes several nurses that he knows, Alice Tew, Linda Thibert, Ethel Chambers, Lynda Bergeron, Shirley Estes, Nancy Weslowski and Brenda Murdock. He sees Linda Kelley running down the hall with a test tube, and the head doctor Bernie Lavenda, chasing her. Passing by the Interns room, he notices Danny Scully, Fran Horahan, and James Northrup. After seeing his wife, he leaves the hospital and heads for the World's Fair.

First he enters the Science Building and finds the scientists Danny Stone, David Messier, Pat Mantello, Dan Ralston and Bob Williams working on the new science project of the year.

In the Automotive Building, he sees Art Lemire, Timothy Nadeau, Ernie Lamarre, Kipper Lamb, Carl Kingsley, James Horan, Alfred Denault, Gary Ames, Stephen Wool, Stanley Tower, and Ronald Skovera, now top-notch mechanics, exhibiting their new flying car. Stopping at the restaurant to get a bite to eat, he sees as waitresses, Bernadette Perras, Judy Salavantis, Jackie Segala, Claire Martin, Carol Zagarinsky, Janet Buzzell and Carol Cermenaro. In the Home Economics building, he comes across Liz Gorkzakoski, Jean Graziola, Linda Hodgdon, Nancy Kirkpatrick, Toni Chenail and Denise Caron exhibiting the latest in culinary art and interior decorating. Coming out of the building, Jack spots Alan Horbal selling peanuts and Eddie Howland, the chief caretaker, picking up the shells.

Jack then leaves the World's Fair and returns to his office to turn in his day's report to be typed up by the secretaries, Hope Pratt, Barbara Preite, Jean Robinson, Betty Sweeney, Ruth Boucher, Linda Armstrong, Pat Bemis, and Martha Ferris.

Jack then decides that since his day's work is finished he will go to Esty Mason's night club for a little relaxation. He is greeted by Paula Gotzens, Carol O'Connell, and Judy Benedetti as cigarette girls. Playing in the orchestra are John Crofts, Danny Dobbert, Don Chesboro, Len Gigliotti, and Paul Catelotti. Providing the entertainment are the exotic dancers, Karen Gayda and Barbara Durant. Tired from his busy day, Jack now leaves the night club and his fond memories of the Class of '62.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of '62, dispensing with the ridiculous legal terminology, proclaim this to be our last will and testament, bequeathing to:

- Dr. Taylor — The Republic autographed by Plato.
- Mr. Drotter — The Chubby Checker twist album, "Let's Twist Again."
- Mrs. Allen — A bird-watcher's manual.
- Mrs. Bell — Free bowling lessons from Don Carter.
- Mr. Boisvert — A book on How to Succeed in Golf by Charley Cheat.
- Mrs. Bousquet — A musical typewriter.
- Mrs. Brawn — A $100 word.
- Mr. Bresnahan — A team that can beat Adams again next year.
- Mrs. Brown — A "Sing Along With Mitch" Album.
- Miss Cody — A "formuler" for success.
- Mrs. D'Amico — An Italian cookbook.
- Mr. Dean — A rubber car.
- Mr. Del Negro — A new set of lab books, and a class of Einsteins to match us next year.
- Mr. Demarco — A toupée.
- Mr. Diamond — A course in political science.
- Mr. Gravel — A free Dale Carnegie Speaking Course.
- Mr. Howard — 101 ways to outsmart students.
- Mrs. Howe — More books to fill the empty shelves.
- Mr. Johnson — New gym lockers.
- Mr. Kove — A Key Club like last year's.
- Mr. Lamarre — A comic book store.
- Mrs. Lijeron — A course from Arthur Murray
- Miss Loehr — An infallible typewriter.
- Miss Lunney — A play by Tennessee Williams with Rock Hudson as the leading actor, and best wishes from the class of '62.
- Mr. MacDonald — A farm, and good luck.
- Mr. Marino — A helicopter to get to work faster.
- Mr. Merrigan — Six periods of all girl classes.
- Mr. Mulholland — A larger office.
- Miss Murray — A number paint set.
- Mr. Murray — "A Do It Yourself Kit."
- Mr. Noel — A new pair of skis.

Mr. Prevey — Stilts for the basketball team.
 Mr. Quinlan — An automatic "bouncer."
 Miss Ringdahl — A class that likes orals!
 Mr. Rorke — An all girl football team.
